Crack Two-Year-Olds Will Start There Fitz Herbert With Maskette-Jockeys.

The stake entries for the Saratoga meetindicate that the sport at the Spa next was considerable speculation as to the outcome of the race. revious years. The fact that President on, Jr., has arranged for twentynterest among the horsemen, who have ded by entering the best thorough reds in training for the various events. tis usually the case that the $30,000 Hopeful bimer, C. L. Harrison's unbeaten Waldo Democrat and Thomas Clyde's rantic. The $25,000 Saratoga cup, one le and three quarters, has attracted such us horses as King James, Fitz Herbert, Madden, Restigouche, Celt, High Pri-te, Clambala, Blue Book, Fayette, Lady edford, Effendi, Wintergreen, Bouque ad Alfred Noble.

the $5,000 Saratoga Handicap, one mile d a quarter, the best horses in America have been named, including King James, Fitz Herbert, Joe Madden, Restigouche, Ring's Daughter, Alfred Noble, Sir John Johnson, High Private, Olambala, Celt, Affliction, Fayette, Lady Bed-Vintergreen, Petticoat, Bouquet, Maltbie, Gary Davis, Guy Fisher, Blue Book, Restihe and Montgomery. All the other takes show similar class.

The Sheepshead Bay meeting will end rrow. The Lawrence Realization, for aree-year-olds, one mile and five furiongs, ded to Fitz Herbert, who will probably Fayette, John G. Greener's Olambala and C. Boyle's Detective. Olambala, a and C. Boyle's Detective. Olambala, a colt by Ornus—Blue and White, who arrived here the other day, worked a mile and a guarter at Gravesend last Saturday in 2:10 and is highly regarded. Detective, by Maddler—Admiration, winner of this year's Hamilton Derby, has done some sensational work at the Bay, his last move being a mile and a half on Saturday in 2:38. Several days previous he turned the same distance in the remarkable time of 2:32. Fitz Herbert will make concessions in weight to all these horses. The second part of the Double Event also will be run to-morrow, with Waldo Sweep, Starbottle, Grasmere, Dalmatian, Lovetie, Firebox, Medallion, Rocky Carten, Newmarket, Shannon, Noon and Hampton Court in the eligible list.

The scene of action will shift to the Empire City track in Yonkers on Wednesday, when a meeting of sixteen consecutive days will begin. President James Butler and Manager Matt J. Winn have arranged a liberal stake programme with the result that many new horses and jockeys will be seen. The feature of the opening day is the Midsummer Stakes, at a mile and a furiong, with some high class selling platers ready to face the barrier. On Thursday the Whirl Stakes, for three-year-olds, one mile, will be run, with Fitz Herbert, Etherial, Fastion Plate. Plate Glass, Wise Mason and others named. Friday's card is made up exclusively of overnight events, with a total of 38,000 in added money. On Saturday the $5,000 Empire City Handicap, one mile and a furlong, will be decided, and from present indications the field will include Fitz Herbert. Alfred Noble, Juggler, Tipp's Daughter, Effendi, Fayette, Arcite, Fanion Plate, Petticoat, Arasee and Live wire. The riding talent at Empire City probably will excel that at the other metropolitan tracks. In addition to E. Dugan, V. Powers, Page, Taplin and other good boys who have been riding at the Bay, McGee, E. Martin, A. Walsh, J. Lee, Mustrave and Schilling will begin work in the addle. The Empire track has been overaculed until it is lightning fast.

S. C. Hildreth is anxious to arrange a match race between Fitz Herbert and Mr. Reene's Maskette to decide the three-year-old championship. He says any distance at a mile or over will do, the weights to be equal. Hildreth says Empire City will be an acceptable place and if Mr. Keene will be a acceptable place and if Mr. Keene will be the to such a race President Butler says he will hang up a suitable purse. A struggle between these magnificent three-year-iss would be the turi event of a lifetime and probably would draw an immense crowd. If there is no chance for a race at Empire City Hildreth says he will be reedy to arrange one at Saratoga.

The remarkable prowess of Fitz Herbert has developed the odd fact that the colt's dam, Morganatic, who was by Emporium, was seid in 1907 to a Mr. Christie; who resides somewhere in Canada, for the paltry sum of $40. She was then regarded as a failure as a brood mare, as she had never thrown a winner. But now that Fitz Herbert has won everlasting fame the mare is wanted by Owner Hildreth for breeding purposes. Hildreth said yesterday that sobody could tell him Mr. Christies first anne er where he lives, but that if the owner of Merganatic will write he will receive a substantial offer for the now celebrated dam.

E. Dugan leads the jockeys on the local tracks with 33 winners, 29 seconds and 23 thirds. Butwell is second with 22 winners, 13 seconds and 12 thirds. Scoville comes next with 21 winners, 14 seconds and 20 thirds. V. Powers, who has been riding here only three weeks, is fourth with 11 winners, 3 seconds and 5 thirds. Glass is fifth with 17 firsts, 13 seconds and 16 thirds. Creevy and Nicol follow with 10 winners each, while Grand and H. Smith each have 9, with Page, McCahey and McIntyre having 6 each. V. Powers already is regarded as the best boy.

William Gibson, president of the Fairmont A. C., says that Al Kubiak deliberately backed out of his match with Sam Langford last week and that a bout between Langford and Willie Lewis would be a farce, in spite of Lewis's bombastic talk when he recently arrived here from Europe, when he said Langford was afraid of him. Gibson has received so many requests from the slub members for some kind of a glove contest that he has arranged a ten round bout between Bert Keyes and Johnny Marto for next Friday night. These boys are sluggers and willing mixers. They are anxious to mattle the question of supremacy in a decisive way, as the winner will have a match with either Dick Hyland or Leach Cross. The Fairmont club will conduct bouts all summer if proper material is available. er if proper material is available

There will be two interesting fights in Los Angeles this week. To-morrow night Battling Nelson will hook up with Ad Wolsons to Milwaukee in a ten round bout, while on Wednesday Bill Papke and Jim Firms will meet in a bout of similar length. It looks as if Nelson and Papke would not be compelled to extend themselves much Youas Corbett and Johnny Frayne will meet in a twenty-five round bout at Colma on Baturday:

Miller of the Pirates is a smooth workman with his hands on ground balls. Like Wagner, he spreads them out to make a barricade and the ball rolls into them.

Eddie Collins and Honus Wagner are likely to make their hundredth hit any day now. Each closed last week with ninety-eight, according to one set of averages.

The Rev. Billy Sunday picks the Glants and clubs to fight it out for the National League pennant. Fred Clarke, who is nearer to the scene of action, probably would pick the Pirates.

Jimmy Austin won't steal any ninety-eight bases in the American League, but he has stolen a goodly number just the same and would have piltered more had he played in every game.

Wagner fumbled a slow hit last Friday which resulted in the bases being filled with nobody out. It provoked the following learned comment from a rooter: "Wagner did that a purpose. He's got some trick he's golf to pull off."

MULLER WINS FIVE MILE RUN. AMONG THE AUTOMOBILISTS Good Sport at American Athletic Club

The American Athletic Club games at Celtic Park yesterday produced some good contests, the best being the five mile run. Among the starters were Jim Crowley of the Irish American A. C., James J. Lee of the Mercury A. C. and Charles Muller of the Mohawk A. C. It was thought that the journey was a little too far for the Mohawk man, and the impression was as the both games of a double header here this be between Crowley and Lee. This view be between Crowley and Lee. This view was wrong, for after a few laps had been reeled off Muller went to the front and was never headed. Lee came in second and Crowley third.

The scratch mile was another good race, Joseph Brownlow of the Irish American A. C. and Mike Driscoll of the Mercury A. C. being the chief contenders. Brownlow finally beat the Mercury runner. The big men showed their provess at the hammer, shot and discus. John Flanagan was in his glory again, and he took first prize in the 16 pound hammer, with a throw of 174 feet ½ inch. With a handicap of the feet J. Duncan of the Mohawk A. C. won the discus throw from Sheridan. The 16 pound shot went to a Mohawk man also, in J. Frank, who with five feet handicap made the total distance of 45 feet 2½ inches. The best actual put was made by Ross of the New York A. C., who did 44 feet 9 inches.

Backett and Little Win Westchester Round Robin Doubles.

The tie in the round robin doubles of the Final Round—Arthur M. Altken defeated Wagner Van Vlack, 3-5, 5-0.

There is a high class entry in the Seabright tournament which begins to-day. The meeting for the cup held by William J. Clothier is in a way more important than many of its predecessors, for it will mark the beginning of the effort to ascertain the calibre of the younger element in lawn tennis that may be enlisted for the Davis international challenge cup team. The draw is seeded so as to test the men. In the upper half are C. Frederick Watson, Jr., vs. Raymond D. Little: Arthur S. Dabney, Jr., vs. Robert Le Roy, and Edwin P. Larned vs. Nathaniel W. Niles. afford some excellent racing, judging from the liberal entries. The Pontiac Handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, is a feature, with Nimbus, Effendi and Arasee possibly the best. The Roseben Handicap, at six and a half furlongs, is another attraction, with Tim Pippin, Prince Gal and Casque probable factors. In the Dorante selling event, at a

For the Selectman Selling event, for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs on the grass, St. Dunstan, half furlongs on the grass, St. Dunstan, Glennadeane and Little King seem best. In the Cairngorm Selling race, at a mile and a quarter on the grass, Juggler, Bonnie Kelso and Superstition may go well. In the Watervliet, for maiden two-year-olds, five furlongs, Futurity course, Noon, Eddie Dugan and Christina look formidable. The entries:

THIRTY CONTESTING CARS FOR GLIDDEN TOUR.

Fourteen Will Try for Hower Trophy and Three Are Entered for Cup Given by Common Council of Detroit Order of Departure of Competitors.

DETROIT, July 11 .- Evil days have fallen on the Glidden tour and only thirty cars have been entered for the three trophies offered for competition in this year's renewal of the chief touring contest in this country. Of the thirty entries thirteen will compete for the Charles J. Glidden trophy for touring cars, fourteen will compete for the Frank B. Hower trophy for runabouts and three will compete for the trophy given by the Common Council of the city of Detroit for cars with miniature tonneaus. Official, non-contesting and press cars will bring the number of machines which will start away from here to-morrow up to Belfast Ginger Ale forty-two.

Among the automobilists gathered here from all over the country it is freely pre-dicted that the 1909 Glidden tour will be the last annual touring contest of the American Automobile Association conducted under such rigid and exacting rules as those adopted for the event for this and the last couple of years. Some of the radicals assert that the Glidden tour will be abandoned altogether but the general be run to please the automobile clubs and bar every one but manufacturers from par-

The growing seve rity in the rules has undoubtedly been the greatest influence in the lessened number of entries each year In 1907, when competition for the Glidden trophy was limited to clubs affiliated with the American Automobile Association, there vere forty-nine touring cars entered as candidates for the challenge cup offered by the Boston globe girdling motorist, and twelve runabouts were entered for the prize dochairman of the committee in charge of Last year the rules were somewhat stricter than in 1907 and there were thirty-two touring cars entered for the Glidden trophy and fourteen runabouts nominated for another prize donated by Chairman Hower. This year the Glidden trophy is to be competed for by individuals, not by clubs as was the case in 1907 and 1908, and competing cars in 1907 were sixty-one. in 1908 there were fifty-six and this year there are to be thirty.

This year's tour not only will be the most severe yet run, so far as the rules are concerned, but it also will be the longest by almost 1,000 miles. This is the sixth annual reliability event conducted by the American Automobile Association and the fifth annual contest for the Glidder trophy.

Percy Lawrence and Jacob Magin carried off the principal honors in the amateur contests. Twenty-five riders started in the ten mile professional race, which was won in a blanket finish by Fenn. Frank Kramer was a contestant, but withdrew early in the race. It was chiefly due to Joe Fogler's pacing on the final lap that Penn won. The summaries:

MIXUP IN OCEAN RACE. Motor Boat Results in Doubt-Dense Fog Makes Trouble

BEACH HAVEN, N. J., July 11.—Phila-delphia planned the ocean yacht race finished here to-day, and it probably will take a Philadelphia lawyer to figure out the winners in the most important class.

The results of the motor boat races, in which there were seven competitors, are badly mixed up. A dense fog enveloped the coast this morning and the committee boat, the sloop Marchioness of Bermuda racing fame, fetched up on a mud bank while on the way to make the finish line while on the way to make the finish line with the bell buoy off New Inlet. This with the bell buoy off New Inlet. This mishap necessitated the substitution of a launch. The weather eyes of navigators, bedimmed by fog and unprepared for so small a mark, failed to pick it up. One skipper anchored his ship as near as possible within sound of the bell, while others bell within sound of the bell, while others beach until the fog lifted, about 10 o'clock. The outcome is that Lady Maud and the Larkspur appear as rival claimants for the mist of the country we have for long recognized that fact and four of the most resteemed professionals have passed to the hitherto side of that mile post—George Strath, Aleck Finlay, Tom Anderson and Tom Gourley. Gourley is quite unapproachable on the Forest Hill course and on Saturday he cut down the record from 75 to 70. His card was: The outcome is that Lady Maud and Larkspur appear as rival claimants for first honor, while Elizabeth, which came home more than an hour ahead of all her competitors, did not cross the line at all. The Larkspur came up to the pier with a broom at her masthead, but does not appear to have been officially timed, so a more promising claimant of victory on the face of the returns seems to be Lady Maud, of the returns seems to be Lady Maud, finished some distance astern of the Lark-

the management is the claim made by some of the skippers that the mark boat at McCrae's Shoal buoy, the outermost turn of One boat, the Alice, is said to have abandoned the race in consequence at that mark. There is no dispute, however, as to the result in the auxiliary class. In this there were only two starters and the winner was Mira, owned by R. L. Young of the Island Heights Yacht Club. The other boat was Mabel, Commodore Edson of the Corinthian Yacht and Gun Club.

The race, which is the first of an annual series of orean contests from this place, was planned and worked up by Commodore C. S. Street of the Yachtmen's Club of Philadelphia and sailed under the management of the Corinthian Yacht and Gun Club of this place. The course is from the bell buoy off New or Little Egg Harbor Inlet southward by the Northeast End lightship to the Five Fathomalightship, thence westward to McCrae's Shoal buoy off, Cape May; thence northward to the starting line, distance 120 miles. Twelve yachts were started yesterday, three sail yachts at 11.35 A. M., two auxiliaries at 2:30 P. M. and seven motor boats at 6:35 P. M.

The yachts had fine weather during the greater part of the race, the only serious drawback being the fog of this morning which they ran into coming up the coast. The sea was smooth and the sail yachts had leading winds for the most part, interrupted by some calm spots in the neighborahood of the lightships. The Lady Maud lost one of the blades of her screw and the locally flights at the would be 3100 that he would be 3100 One boat, the Alice, is said to have aban-

BERGEN BEACH REGATTA. Sall Craft Raced in Spanking Breeze

Fifteen boats started in the annual regatta of the Bergen Beach Yacht Club on Jamaica Bay yesterday. The craft were divided into power and sail divisions, and the winners in the different classes were Tomboy among the cabin sloops, Boozie among the open catboats, the cabin launch Francis W., the open launch Anna Grace among the open cathoats, the caoin launch Francis W., the open launch Anna Grace and the hunting cabin launch Onward, the property of former Commodore Jamese Still of the Bergen Beach organization.
No award was made among the cabin catboats. J. Conger's Allons was the first fo finish. That craft, however, was beaten by Elvira, the property of J. Anderson, Jr., on corrected time. After the race the rating measurement of Elvira was protested, and until the boat is remeasured the winner will not be known.

The sail craft raced in a spanking breeze from the southwest. The new official course of the Yacht Racing Association of Jamaica Bay was sailed twice with the marks all left to port. This gave the yachts plenty of windward work on the last leg from Canarsie to Bergen Beach. Tomboy led atfall the marks. In the first round the open catboat Vision broke her bobstay and had to give up the contest.

Wolf Wins a Sonder Race.

The Wolf, Caleb Loring's sonder class yacht, which has been racing very consistently and always been near the front at the finish, won her first race of the season in the regatta of the Corinthian Yacht Club at Marblehead last Saturday. There were nine starters in the class, Wolf, Lady, Sally X., Wag, Skeezix and Spokane I.I., this year's boats, and Bandit, Corinthian and Ellen, of the older division. The Wolf got a reach, with Lady, Sally X. and Skeezix following in close order. On the windward leg the wind was stronger from the southwest and the sea was rough. Wolf did well on this leg, too, still holding lead, with Sally X. and Lady following closely. It was a run home. The stronger in the seconds. The Horn won by 87 seconds. The times were wolf.

No one will know until to-day whether the professionals—Isaac Mackie, Dave Hunter, Aleck Smith and H. H. Barker—are to have their four ball match. The trouble is to get the professionals together, for some of them are as fickle in their moods as ballet dancers. Immediately afterward the club agreed to give $200 for an exhibition by Sargent and the lodal light, sent word that he would bet $100 that he would beat the noted champion. The reply is silence.
